Governor Perdue Announces Executive Appointments
Faison Middleton, of Watson Spence, appointed by Georgia Governor

(Albany, Ga.)- Gov. Sonny Perdue announced his new executive appointments last Thursday, March 18. Faison Middleton, partner in the law firm of Watson Spence, was one of the 14 new appointments. Middleton was appointed to the Board of Commissioners of the Georgia Student Finance Commission as the Second Congressional District Representative.

"I am honored by the appointment and look forward to serving the students of our State through the work of this commission," said Middleton.

Faison received his Bachelor's degree education from Emory University in 1992 and moved on to graduate cum laude in 1995 from Georgia State University College of Law, where he also served as Managing Editor of the law review. He then began his career in Atlanta, but left the partnership of McKenna, Long and Aldridge LLP in late 2003 to move back to his hometown of Albany and join Watson Spence.

Middleton was previously active in the Atlanta Bar Association and has been active in the Dougherty Circuit Bar Association since his move to Albany. Middleton currently serves on the Board of Trustees of Leadership Georgia Foundation, Inc. and he is a graduate of Leadership Albany. He currently serves in numerous capacities locally, including serving since its inception as the President of the non-profit Lily Pad SANE Center, Inc., and as Treasurer of the Dougherty County Rotary Club. Middleton has served in many community organizations and on numerous boards and committees over the past six years, including the Board of Directors of the Albany Area Chamber Commerce, the Board of Trustees of the Albany Museum of Art, Board of Directors of First Tee of Albany, and Younger Executive Board of Regions Bank in Albany. He has served on committees to raise funds for Albany Community Hospice and the Flint Riverquarium. He and his wife, Kari, have two boys and attend St. Paul's Episcopal Church.
